Cookies Policy - Prosterium Limited

1. About this policy

This Cookie Policy explains how Prosterium Limited uses cookies and similar technologies on prosterium.com. Please read it together with our Privacy Policy, which explains how we handle personal data and how you can exercise your rights.

2. What cookies are

Cookies are small files that a website or an online service can store in your browser. They can help a website remember your choices, make a feature work or protect the site from misuse. Similar technologies can store or read information on your device in other ways, such as through browser storage.

Some cookies usually expire when your browsing session ends. Others stay on your device for a set period or until you delete them. Cookies can come from the website you visit or from a third party whose service the website uses.

3. How we use cookies

We may use cookies and similar technologies to help our website function and remain secure. We also use a tool to measure how quickly pages load and respond. Some of these technologies may be provided by third-party services that help us operate or monitor the website.

4. Consent and cookie settings

Strictly necessary cookies support a service or feature you request. If we use optional cookies, such as cookies for website analytics, we explain their purpose and ask for your consent before storing or reading them.

Where we ask for consent, you can decline optional cookies or change or withdraw your choice at any time through the website's cookie controls.

You can also view, block or delete cookies in your browser's privacy settings. Blocking some cookies may affect how certain website features work.

5. Updates and contact

We update this policy when our use of cookies changes and publish the revised version on our website.

For questions about this policy or the cookies used on our website, email info@prosterium.com or write to Prosterium Limited, 2 Pergamou Street, Nicosia 2413, Cyprus.
